

How often should I have my marble floors professionally polished? That's a difficult question, since it depends on the type of marble you have, how hard or soft it is, how much traffic the floor receives, and many other factors. On the average,

That's a difficult question, since it depends on the type of marble you have, how hard or soft it is, how much traffic the floor receives, and many other factors. On the average, most marble floors in a home need to be polished about once every one or two years. In a commercial building, polishing may need to be done daily.

TIP Do not wait until your floor is worn to have it re-polished. If you do, it may require re-honing, which can be costly. Talk to several contractors and obtain their opinion.

Online URL:

<https://surfacecarepros.com/kb/article/how-often-should-i-have-my-marble-floors-professionally-polished-that-s-a-difficult-question-since-it-depends-on-the-type-of-marble-you-have-how-hard-or-soft-it-is-how-much-traffic-the-floor-receives-and-many-other-factors-on-the-average-980.html>